22nd JANUARY 2018

Dear Parents

The highlight of last week was Friday, our child led science day. Children spent the morning planning their scientific investigations. They used 'post-it note planning' to choose which variables they would keep the same, which variable they would change and what they would measure. Each class generated a research question and made a scientific prediction. During the afternoon, many of you joined the children to take part in the experiments. We experienced making different types of slime, dancing popcorn, exploding rockets and much more. It was great to see children and parents working together as scientists. Many thanks for coming in and supporting the children with their learning for this occasion.
